朋友们对 the LABORER.

John Swinton Shows Up the Hypocrisy of Mark Hanna and President McKinley.

And He Might Include Taylor, of Kentucky, and Catspaw Brown, of the Same Place.

John Swinton, the great friend of the laboring man, in communication with the world to-night has the following to say:

"This year the bogus 'friends of labor' are more noisy than usual on the eve of an election. They babble in favor of labor when they see it; sing songs to it, and give three cheers whenever they catch sight of it in overalls or carrying a shovel. They glory in its strength, its lie and beauty. They say that Adam was a laborer in the Bible; Tubal an ironworker and Noah a ship carpenter."

POLITICAL FRAUDS.

They declare that labor is the source of all wealth sometimes, or one of the sources of it all; and that the poor toiler ought to get enough wages to satisfy him. They warn the noble laborer to vote straight on their side and bring his fellow laborers to the polls with him.

Talk of bunko games, gold bricks, the panel game, artful dodgers, thin-bladed riggers, decoy ducks, green goods hocus-pocus, prestidigitators, Wall street sharpes and Mrs. Brutgruddery of the Red Cow—why, these are all deserving of political praise when compared with the frauds who are now stirring around as "friends of labor."

HYPOCRITICAL FRIENDS.

Mark Hanna has come out as a friend of labor; McKinley has stood up for labor every day during his recent east-tail campaign for re-election. You might be led to think that labor is the best thing out, the tallest cow in the pasture, the fliest nag in the stable, the biggest hog in the puddle, the tallest giant in any Bowery museum.

Now, why do the political humbugs stand about labor at this time? Because it has a vote; because it could send them all to Jericho.

Labor can tell what they will do after the coming election by looking at what they have done ever since they took office. They are like the leaves that are now fluttering in. They will tell labor to "get out," will snub it, snigger at it and give it one in the solar plexus; they will scorn it in its appeals, vote against measures in its interest, and pile on its burdens; they will sell it out to its enemies.

You never know what form of blood poison will follow constipation. Keep the liver clean by using De Witt's Little Early Risers and you will avoid trouble. They are famous little pills for constipation, liver and bowel troubles.

Fifty Stories of the Far West.

The Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of "For Love of Country" and "For the Freedom of the Sea" is writing his experiences and adventures as "A Missionary in the Far West" for early publication in the Ladies' Home Journal. Mr. Brady was stationed in the far West for eight years as a missionary. In that time he had some most stirring and exciting and often humorous experiences, and fifty of the most thrilling and unusual of these will relate in a series of articles. He has never before told these experiences. He will do so now. They will have to do with encounters with cyclones and blizzards, prairie fires, unusual weddings, funerals and baptisms.

I had dyspepsia fifty seven years and never took permanent relief till I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Now I am well and feel like a new man," writes S. J. Fleming, Murray Neb. It is the best digestant known. Cures all forms of indigestion. Physicians everywhere prescribe it.

HERE IT IS DEMOCRATS!

Democratic Disorganization, Tayor Supremacy.

Republican Laws That Keep Alive Trusts.

DO YOU WANT THE TRUSTS?

The almost unlimited power of the railroads when combined is soon to be shown in a general increase in rates on eastbound grain. This raise will soon to be followed by similar advances on dressed meats, packing house products and live stock.

A few months ago the beef trust advanced the price of meat to an outrageous figure. The elevator trust advanced the price of wheat and the milling trust advanced the price of flour. Thus the baker was forced to advance the price of bread.

It was a scramble on the part of the trusts to see which could get its shares deepest in the pockets of the prosperous people.

The railroads, the kings of all combinations, were not slow to take advantage of the general system of robbery.

Luxurious freight charges on packing house and mill products will have the effect of raising the retail prices.

In this fashion the general prosperity of the country is being drained off into the pockets of men who are in no sense responsible for it.

It is an easy matter for these blood-thirsty, with the unlimited power of the railroads behind them, to put a tax upon the people that would make the Dingley war tax look like a humble subscription for the heaven.

General Lee and His Fruitful Hen.

It was General Lee's custom to leave his tent open door in the morning for a sprightly hen that had gone into the egg business promptly and had thus saved her head. When she stepped in, General Lee would put aside his work and walk post deferentially upon the outside until her cackles announced the mystery of eggs, laying at an end. She roosted and rode in his wagon, was an eyewitness of the battles of Chancellorsville and Gettysburg, and was finally sacrificed upon the altar of hospitality at Orange Court House, in 1864 — November Ladies' Home Journal.

The Boer as Pictured by Mark Twain.

"He is deeply religious, profoundly ignorant, dull, obstinate, bigoted, miserly in his habits, unscrupulous, honest in his dealing with the whites, a hard master to his black servant, lazy, good shot, good horseman, addicted to the chase, a lover of political independence, a good husband and father, not fond of herding together in towns but likes the seclusion and remoteness and solitude and empty vanities and silence of the veldt; a man of mighty appetite, and not delicate with what he appears to it; we eat salted pork and Indian corn and bilious, requiring on yonder that the quantity shall not be stinted; willing to ride a long journey to take a hand in a rude all-night dance, interspersed with a prayer-meeting; proud of his Dutch and Huguenot origin and its religious and military history; proud of his race's achievements in South Africa, it holds plumes into hostile and uncharred deserts in search of free soil, unexposed by the pestering and treacherous English, also its victories over the natives and British; proud of all of the direct and unflinching personal interest which the Dutch have always taken in its affairs. He can not read, he can not write; he has one or two new-papers, but he is apparently, not aware of it; until lately, he had no schools and taught his children nothing; news is a term which has no meaning to him, and the thing it tells he cares nothing about. He hates to be taxed, and resents it. He has a bad stock-farm in South Africa for two centuries and a half, and would like to stand still till the end of time, or he has no sympathy with Uitlanders notions of progress. He is hungry to be rich, for he is a human; but his preference has been for riches in cattle, not in fine clothes and fine horses and gold and diamonds. The gold and diamonds have brought the godless stranger within his gates, also contamination and broken repose, and he wishes they had never been discovered.

Now that Goebel has been advertised as a monster, many a Louisville voter will turn out to scoff and remain at his speakings and praise him. Such a rabid and unreasoning willification as the corporation classes have poured out upon this able, clean and unblushing champion of the masses is now redounding to his advantage in rallying to his support the plain people, who love justice and are ever ready to fight a wrong.—Times.

they vote for either Brown or Taylor they do become deserters whether they will or not. Will not discern the difference between selecting candidates from Democrats and selecting a man after he has been chosen by his own party as a representative of Democratic doctrines. At this time men must prove themselves yielding not to any resentful spirit.

Just one week from to-day the voters of this State will be called on to decide as between the two great political parties. They will vote for the maintenance of Democratic or Republican doctrines.

The former has ever stood out in favor of the masses and in opposition to the methods of the classes. It is the people on the one side and trusts and combines on the other; Domination or slavery. Voters of Kentucky, when on the morning of the 7th of November you rise from your places of rest look out on the earth and its beauties draw into your lungs the exhilarating air, consider how free they are, then go to the polls and vote for your own freedom and against the rule of the few. That would be right and you would be glad to say to your children, and they to theirs, that you aided in downing the world's monopolies. The people will rule,

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

A vote for I. N. Greene is a vote for cheaper school books. Indiana will have no advantage over Kentucky's children with a Democratic legislature. We pay for our school books more than fifty percent above the price Indiana gets her books. Indiana pays 65 cents for a book that Kentucky pays $1.00 for. I. N. Greene is opposed to the Book Trust that demands this additional price from us. Mr. Greene opposes all kinds of trusts and the people have in him a friend. A vote for the Democratic party, a vote for Mr. Greene, is a vote to save on books alone 35¢ every time a 65¢ book is purchased. Citizens of Menefee and Montgomery vote for your interests.

DISCERNING POWERS.

There are some folks who are lacking in discernment and at this time they are with little trouble recognized.

When a party is considering men to become its representatives the selection is made according to fitness, soundness, party doctrine, other words, which of the men serving can and will represent us faithfully in their party. Back in the counties we have our conventions and from Democrats the majority select delegates to a State or District convention.

These delegates we entrust all of our rights and privileges, then they become us and we return to our homes while they attend the State or District convention and there as instructed by us they undertake to carry out the will of the county.

Circumstances may arise which would render the carrying out the will of the people impossible, then they have discretionary powers, it has been often, but whatever our representatives do bind us both legally and morally and the only thing we could do, should they abuse our confidence, would be to administer a rebuke should they ever come before the people.

When delegates have finished their work the result is over and the fight which then confronts us is with an open enemy. We have our forces on the battlefield and so have they, and any man who forsakes the ranks for any independent and goes over to the enemy becomes a deserter. This is the long and short of it and there is no evading the conclusion.

We don't believe Democrats intend to desert the party but when

HE IS AFTER YOU, LITTLE BROWNIE!

FLOWERS FOR GOEBEL
COLORED PEOPLE THE DONORS.

One evening last week in Louisville as Senator Goebel advanced to the platform where he was to address the people he was met by a colored man, who represented the Independent Colored Voters League, and who presented him with a large bunch of white roses. In his speech which followed the Senator acknowledged the gift.

Governor Goebel (we had as well be getting used to the title) took advantage of this opportunity to say he was for the separate coach law and that if he was elected Governor would see that colored people were provided with the same kind of coaches as the whites are. That it had been Taylor's business to see that this was done but for reasons of his own he had not done it.

Governor Goebel was warmly applauded by both the colored and white people. This demonstration of the colored people is an indication that they have determined to shake off the shackles of political slavery and will vote the Democratic ticket, not because they have been invited to do so by the Democrats, but because they have a right to freedom of suffrage, and because they believe Democrats stand for what is best for the entire people.

"I AM ASTONISHED!"

YOU ARE?—NO MORE THAN WE.

"That a man of your standing and intelligence should vote for Bill Goebel," said a Brown Democrat to a regular Democrat who retorted this way: "And I am astonished that you would enter a convention, participate in it and then swear you will not vote for the nominee of that convention. When you entered that convention you morally bound yourself to support the nominee didn't you? Are you doing it now by following an independent?"

I AM A DEMOCRAT! YOU ARE?

Some say I would vote the Democratic ticket were it not for that county convention and the methods of the Louisville convention. To such we have a word: Col. A. W. Hamilton was not nominated by that convention he was the only man asking for the nomination. Everything was harmonious. Will you vote for him? He is a Democrat and has been free with his time for party work and liberal with his money. Democrats here is a man upon whom you may unite. What will you do?

Senator Goebel will be at Louisville next Monday night and close the campaign in a grand rally at Music Hall. Louisville will give the Democratic ticket 6,000 majority.

Don't forget we have a Democratic city ticket to be voted for and put your stamp under the rooster. Be a Democrat through and through!

The way reports go even Taylor is not of the sanctified kind.

Senator William Goebel will be Governor of Kentucky.

Where Girls Are Wanted.

At the annual meeting of the United British Women's Emigration Association, held under the chairmanship of the marquis of Lorne, Hon. Mrs. Joyce discussed the question: "What to Do with Our Girls?" and laid stress on the great opening for female usefulness afforded by the colonies. The demand from Africa and Canada for nurses, teachers and domestic servants is incessant. Vancouver, said Mrs. Joyce, provides a splendid field for distressed gentlewomen. Then he visited other newspaper offices and some big wholesale concerns where hundreds of dollars' worth of stamps were received in the mail. In a few days he had contracted for the purchase of several hundred dollars' worth of stamps daily at a small discount. His next move was to find a customer for these stamps—something that was not difficult as might be imagined. The Polish lancer became famous under Napoleon I, and the British straightforwardly turned half a dozen into lancers, not only equipping them with lances, but also giving them the Polish caps with the square, flat tops, which they still wear in full dress parade. It was about the same time that they took up the name hussar, which is Hungarian and comes down all the way from the days of Matthias Corvinus, the Hungarian king, whose old stirrups were sold the other day, I see, for $1,700. With the name of hussar the British army took the dress of the Hungarian cavalier—the fur-covered busby, the Turkish dolman or flying jacket trimmed with fur and hanging loose on the left shoulder, and so on. They have given up the flying jacket, but the rest of the Hungarian dress they still keep. It was all imitated from the French, who had had hussars two generations earlier. Murat, the spectacular marshal of the empire, made it famous and popular.

Most of his stamps are brought to him jumbled up heaps. With the assistance of the boy in his office he straightens them out and arranges them in piles so that each sheet will have the same number of stamps as every other sheet in the pile. Then he puts the stamps up in envelopes of two, three and five dollars, or even larger sums. A part of his business is the adjusting of the loose stamps to envelopes which are furnished by houses which he supplies. In this way the houses have great boxes of stamped envelopes which can be drawn on at will. Mr. Plummer says that he finds that the big seed concern receive the largest number of stamps through the mails, and last year he bought $30,000 worth of stamps from a single Wisconsin firm. He has now been at the business for two years—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE SQUIRE'S DILEMMA.

A Justice of the Peace and a Shadower Case.

A committee representing the Woman's National Industrial and Patriotic League and the Washington Industrial League, called upon Rear Admiral Seelye. ## Nothing to Brag About.

A dispatch from London says the British have no cause to congratulate over results in South Africa. The victories have practically gone for nothing, the whole of Northern Natal being abandoned to the Boers.

"I can truthfully say, Dr. Pierce's medicines did me more good than all I had ever taken before."

Circums would r will c they l it has our both only they' be to they' t. Wk their' the fij is w have c and s who it enemy' is the le is no e. We tend to

These are the words of Mr. O. S. Coppenhefer, of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. He says further:

"I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was violent and caused me much suffering. I consulted a physician and he prescribed a form of dyspepsia, and I took it with little benefit. I then saw Dr. Pierce, his medicine and he told me my sickness had been out of order and that he didn't cure me. I then tried another physician. I had chronic indigestion, and he told me to take the stomachic, Borel River and kidney affects. He treated me for more than a year. I then took several sets of his medicine and they were good, but received no more. I then tried Dr. Pierce again, and he gave me his medicine. Medical Discovery," and the rest of the story.

"In two months time I had been perfectly well again. I had for years before."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most remarkable medicine and greatest discovery that modern medical science has produced. It at once neutralizes the poisonous, fermenting, decomposing, and putrefying qualities of the body, and as soon as this is removed by the action of the medicine, it softens the body, and removes the accumulation of the waste products of the body, and the digestive fluids of the body, and it absorbs the blood and the fat, and it contracts the body, giving strength, giving properties. It produces sound, healthy flesh—muscles, ligaments, skin, hair, etc. It is a medicine containing no whisky, alcohol, sugar or syrup. It does not create a craving for liquor.

BUSINESS PLUCK AT SEVENTY.

Veteran St. Louis Starts a Unique Enterprise.

E. S. Plummer, of St. Louis, makes his living selling United States postage stamps at a profit. He does not buy rare stamps, foreign stamps or any other kind of stamps except those used for letter postage in the United States. A recent purchase by Mr. Plummer of $4,460 worth of cent stamps from a Philadelphia concern, and the fact that he disposed of the consignment in less than a week, will give an idea of the magnitude reached by his business. Last year he paid out over $100,000 for stamps to different St. Louis concerns, and the present year he expects to pass that point.

At 70 years of age Mr. Plummer, owing to business reverses, found himself without means of support. While casting about for employment he thought of the trouble people took to go to the post office to get stamps, and of the further trouble they had in adjusting them to envelopes. One thought suggested another and on a venture he went into the St. Louis Globe-Democrat office and offered to buy all the stamps which came to them through the mails. Then he visited other newspaper offices and some big wholesale concerns where hundreds of dollars' worth of stamps were received in the mail. In a few days he had contracted for the purchase of several hundred dollars' worth of stamps daily at a small discount. His next move was to find a customer for these stamps—something that was not difficult as might be imagined. He was without capital, but explained his venture to one of the city banks, and easily secured credit on depositing the stamps which he purchased. From this point the stamp venture was simply one of enlarging his business.

Most of his stamps are brought to him jumbled up heaps. With the assistance of the boy in his office he straightens them out and arranges them in piles so that each sheet will have the same number of stamps as every other sheet in the pile. Then he puts the stamps up in envelopes of two, three and five dollars, or even larger sums. A part of his business is the adjusting of the loose stamps to envelopes which are furnished by houses which he supplies. In this way the houses have great boxes of stamped envelopes which can be drawn on at will. Mr. Plummer says that he finds that the big seed concern receive the largest number of stamps through the mails, and last year he bought $30,000 worth of stamps from a single Wisconsin firm. ## A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE AND A SHADOWER CASE.

A Justice of the Peace in one of the West end boroughs issued a warrant for the arrest of a West end woman for slander, says the Pittsburgh News. Squire S. J. White happened to be present at the hearing. The prosecutor testified that the defendant had called her an "old virgin," and that she had added: "I don't know what that means, but whatever it is, that's what you are." The witness admitted that she did not know what the meaning of the word was, either, but she knew it had no good meaning or the other wouldn't have made use of it.

"No matter what it means," said the squire, who is an intensely patriotic American, "it's a foreign name and she had no business calling it." "I fine her for it."

"Squire," whispered Squire White, in his ear, "you have no jurisdiction in slander suits; they must be entered in court."

"Well, I'll hold her for court, then," the squire declared.

"But there's no law under which you can do that," he was told.

"Well, I'll hold her anyhow," he replied, "and test the constitutionality of the act."

"But there is no act," persisted Squire White.

"Get out of this office!" commanded the squire, turning on him. "Do you think I'm going to allow you to come in here and lecture me the law?"

"You guys go too," he said, turning on the women. "You're both released on your own rec-ogn-e-zance until this court finds out what the duration is to do with this case."

A CONVENIENCE FOR DRIVERS.

A combined whip socket and rein holder has been patented, comprising a plate hinge to the dashboard, with an adjustable spring to tighten it and form a spring clip, in which the reins are inserted, a tube being carried by the plate for the reception of the whip.

THE DRUM MAJOR.

Was Originally a Court Functionary in Europe.

The infantry regiments of the United States army are to have drum majors hereafter, according to the provisions of the army bill passed at the last session of congress. The fact that while the gorgeous giant with the big cane is an important part of state militia dress parades has led to no place in parades of United States Infantry is not so strange when one hears the explanation.

"The thing is simple enough," said a military antiquarian. "You have only to remember that in the United States regular army there are no Hussars and no Polish lancers. Just wait a moment and I think I can show you the connection. It is rather a paradoxical connection, but it is there, all the same."

"The general idea is that nothing is to be found in the United States army that was not in the British regular army in the fourteenth year of the reign of George III. By that, of course, I mean nothing in the way of regiments and disciplinary arrangements. One or two things may have dropped out of use—the rank of cornet, for example, which was formerly the lowest commissioned rank in the cavalry both in the American and in the British army.

"On the other hand, they have several things that we have not. If you will take the trouble to look it up, you will find that every one of these regiments has been introduced into the British army since our war of independence. The Polish lancer became famous under Napoleon I, and the British straightforwardly turned half a dozen into lancers, not only equipping them with lances, but also giving them the Polish caps with the square, flat tops, which they still wear in full dress parade. It was about the same time that they took up the name hussar, which is Hungarian and comes down all the way from the days of Matthias Corvinus, the Hungarian king, whose old stirrups were sold the other day, I see, for $1,700. With the name of hussar the British army took the dress of the Hungarian cavalier—the fur-covered busby, the Turkish dolman or flying jacket trimmed with fur and hanging loose on the left shoulder, and so on. They have given up the flying jacket, but the rest of the Hungarian dress they still keep. It was all imitated from the French, who had had hussars two generations earlier. Murat, the spectacular marshal of the empire, made it famous and popular."

"So far so good. We have most things that they had in 1776, not whether they took up in Napoleon's time. But one thing their standing army had which we have not heretofore, and that is the drum major. Naturally enough, too, there would be no drum majors in the continental army, because the continentals were the only old, constitutional English militia, representing the shire and borough levies of the middle ages, transferred to the American colonies, while the standing army—with their red coats, the royal liveries—were an extra constitutional body of troops that began to exist under the Stuarts—mere royal retainers, in fact. Now, the drum major was first head of the army, the king of France had his drum generators and drum colonel to house the royal drummers. It was only after Charles I had his drum head cut off that Louis XIV reduced his drum majors and his title was drum major general. The Stuarts were very fond of imitating the French court, and a whole century earlier than the days of Charles I, the king of France had his drum generators and drum colonel to house the royal drummers. President Issues a Thanksgiving Proclamation.

A national custom dear to the hearts of the people calls for the setting apart of one day in each year as an occasion of special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tenderer significance. It enriches domestic life. It summons the absent children to glad reunion with those they love.

"Seldom has this nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving. No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor. Abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandmen. Increased comforts have come to the home. The nation's finances have been strengthened and public credit has been sustained and made firmer, in all branches of industry and trade; there has been an unequalled degree of prosperity, while there has been a steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our national character. Churches and schools have flourished. American patriotism has been exalted. Those engaged in maintaining the honor of the flag with such signal success have been in a large degree spared from disaster and disease. An honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign nation with which we were at war, and we are now on friendly relations with every power on earth."

"The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has been faithfully advanced. There is marked progress towards the restoration of healthy industrial conditions and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the scourge of fever. The hurricane which swept over our new possessions of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitants, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were quick to respond with generous aid to the sufferers.

"While the insurrection still continues in the island of Luzon, business is resuming its activity, and confidence in the good purposes of the United States is being rapidly established throughout the Archipelago."

"For these reasons and countless others, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby name Thursday, the thirtieth of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed as such by all our people on the continent and in our newly acquired islands, as well as by those who may be at sea orjourning in foreign lands; and I advise that on this day religious exercises shall be conducted in the churches or meeting places of all denominations in order that the social features of the day its real significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the Most High for a continuance of the divine guidance, without which man's efforts are in vain, and for divine consolation to those whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for country."

"I recommend, also, that on this day, so far as may be practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toll and charity abound toward the sick, the needy and the poor."

"In witness whereof, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed."

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

Gallagher, D. P. A 408 Vine St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Russia is to strengthen her naval force in the Pacific, and the Germans in this a connection with the re-armed China-Japan alliance.

The Official Ballot.

On the ballots to be used at the November election will be printed each group of names under the party name or title or device that appears above it. First on the left side of the ballot will be printed the device of the Democratic party, a rooster, and its title and group of candidates beneath it.

Next on the right thereof the device of the Honest Election Democratic party, the portraits of Hon. John Young Brown and Hon. P. J. O'Brien, and its name and group of candidates beneath it.

Next the device of the Republican party, a log cabin, and its group of names beneath it.

Next, and in the order named, the device of the People's party, the plow and its group of names beneath it; then the device of the Prohibition party, a Phoenix, and its group beneath it, and last the device of the Socialist-Labor party an arm and hammer, and its title and group of names beneath it.

Want a Large Army.

The president and the Republicans still want a large standing army. I believe that a large standing army would not only be a burden to the American people, but would be a menace to itself. If you want to know the meaning of a large army, go back to the records of the trials of the Dreyfus trial.

There was an innocent man convicted because the army demanded it, and the president had to pardon him because the conviction outraged the sense of justice throughout the civilized world.

And now, when we have pressing upon us this demand for a large army, let us not forget that it will not only burden the taxpayers, but menace American liberty. We are asked to stop and settle the details of a state convention before we relieve this nation from this threatening evil.

The Republican party has gone a step further. It is endorsing a colonial policy. It is endorsing the doctrine of empire. Mr. McKinley, in his speech at Milwaukee, said, "We know that he had no doubt that we would permanently hold the Philippine Islands; he had no doubt that they would prove a great blessing to us, and then he used the sentence to which I want to call your attention:

"That congress will provide for them a government which will promote their material interests as well as advance their people in the path of civilization and intelligence. I confidently believe that in the place of 'congress' put 'parliament,' and after 'them' put 'the colonists,' and you have a sentence that would have expressed the common desire of all Americans to be rebelling against the mother country. (Applause.)"

Kilar George confidently believed that parliament would provide for the colonists a government which would bring them blessings, and which would promote their material interests as well as advance their people in the path of civilization and intelligence.

Change the word "in" in another place in the place of "congress" put "colonists," and after "them" put "Cubans," and you will have a sentence that would fit the Spanish monarch when this nation interfered to bring liberty to the people of Cuba. There is a sentence that shows a clear departure from the principles of independence.

Change the word "in" in another place in the place of "congress" put "colonists," and after "them" put "Cubans," and you will have a sentence that would fit the Spanish monarch when this nation interfered to bring liberty to the people of Cuba. If he does something equally annoying,

All these little idiosyncrasies the neurologist classes as physical automatism and regards as energy wasters.

Probably you will find yourself avoiding or stepping on tacks or counting figures in patterns or the posts flying past the windows, groping uniformly recurring shapes in wall paper or dissecting lines and rows of figures.

The great Napoleon counted winches as he walked abroad, and if he happened to lose count his temper was completely upset for the rest of his walk.

Everybody knows the story of poor old Dr. Johnson, who counted posts, and many sad, insane men are doing the same to-day.

One should avoid as much as possible this tendency of mind and body to dissipate valuable energy.—Perry's Weekly.

A Strange Passion.

George Selwyn had a strange passion for seeing dead bodies, especially those of his friends. He would go any distance to gratify this pursuit. Lord Holland was laid up very ill at Holland house shortly before his death. George Selwyn sent to ask him how he was, and whether he would like to see him. "Oh, by all means!" Lord Holland answered. "If I'm alive to-morrow I shall be delighted to see George, and I know that if I am dead he will be delighted to see me."

You tell me that that Louisville convention received its authority from force? You are here in this state and can remedy that hereafter; but when this nation becomes independent and then it abandons the principles of a republic and induces the principles of empire, you will find it more difficult to retain your steps.

And then I want to ask how any man who favors an imperial policy in the Philippines islands can find any where at home or abroad. (Laughter and applause.)

I was asked in this letter how I could favor a convention resting upon force and yet oppose imperialism in the Philippines Islands. Well, my friends, I can shoot bear before I commence to fight mosquitoes. (Laughter and applause.) If my home is attacked by two kinds of wild beasts, I will try to get rid of the most dangerous first, and when I have him out of the way I will take care of the less dangerous one. (Applause.)

HAT MADE OF GLASS.

The Costliest Piece of Headgear Is Worn by a Man.

The costliest hat in the world is made of spun glass. It cost $1,100. It is owned by Samuel Sherard, of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Sherard attracted considerable attention upon the deck when he started on the steamer Lucania recently on his trip around the world. He was of average age and attractions, and might have passed unnoticed in the throng of voyagers if it had not been for his hat. Some wharf rats distended their mouths with their fingers and whistled shrilly that almost forgotten classic "Where Did You Get That Hat?" Then everybody looked.

At first glance the hat seemed to be made of finely woven brown straw. Closer scrutiny showed that it had certain reflective qualities. Mr. Sherard good-naturedly passed it around among the inquisitive. One man guessed that it was prepared silk. Another hazarded asbestos. Then Mr. Sherard explained.

"It has considerable elasticity and it is as hard to break as an ordinary Panama. I have owned it for five years. It is valuable chiefly as a means of making acquaintances."

Mr. Sherard bowed gallantly. "I value it chiefly as a curiosity. It is too hot to be worth with much comfort. To be frank, I wear it because, in a good-natured moment, I promised the inventor to do so."

"It was made by an old Alastair at Pittsburgh. He invented a process for spinning and weaving glass. His idea was to produce a non-inflammable fabric for window curtains and other draperies. It was found that the stuff couldn't be made attractive to the eye. It was too stiff and ungraceful, and the expense put it out of consideration for theatrical drop curtains, the purpose for which it might have been adapted."

"The hat cost me $1,100. It is the most expensive article of wearing apparel I possess. I have never tested its acoustic properties, but I presume one might talk through it as well as through any other hat." —N. Y. Journal.

Dead Bodies To Be Returned.

An employee of the Quartermaster's Department has started for Manila to arrange for bringing home the bodies of soldiers who lost their lives in the Philippines.

Work on a New Railroad.

The Jackson Paster announces that work on the first nine miles of the Ohio & Kentucky railroad from Jack-on-to Walnut Grove has begun and that as rapidly as possible four or five hundred men will be put to work to push its completion.

This means much in the development of a large section of timber land.

$25.00      $25.00

The Dulu double-geared Feed Mill I am still selling at old price $25 with $2.50 additional for extra set of grinders.

The General Council of Louisville has provided for the construction of two incinerators for garbage, to cost $43,000, and Mt. Sterling can't have waterworks.

Stop that tickling cough by using old-fashioned horseradish candy. You can get it at F. C. Duerson's.

To Teachers.

The Teacher's Reading Circle met at the Court House, Saturday the 28th, at the appointed time, but little progress was made as the books were not received in time to make the necessary preparation. The books are on hand now, however, and can be had by calling at the office of Miss Mary G. Anderson. We are expecting a full attendance and much interest in our next meeting to be held at the Superintendent's office, Saturday, November 11, at 10 a.m.

Weak Eyes Are Made Strong.

In vision made clear, styes removed and granulated lids or sore eyes of any kind speedily and effectively cured by the use of Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve. It's put up in tubes, and sold on a guarantee by all good druggists.

That Whiskey Trust.

It is estimated that a million dollars has been saved to the Company by the discharge of representatives. So it is a million dollars by one trust is taken from circulation and men who had worked up a business that was their own, and which is to them as land to the farmer, have been deprived of their means of a living. There will be others.

We are pleased to welcome to our city Mr. B. F. Heriot, who, having returned from Sharpesburg, today opens his livery in the new stable on Mayville street. His family will for a short time remain at their present home. We welcome them to our city.

Special Registration.

Persons who were sick or absent from the city on regular registration may be registered at the County Clerk's office on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 31st and November 1st.

Thanksgiving Wool Ball.

The Thanksgiving wool ball is wound of yellow wool to simulate a pumpkin. Trifling gifts, as tiny dolls, little whistles, lace pins, etc., are wound in it. As it is unwound the gifts fall out. The wool should be rolled up again as it is pulled off—November Ladies' Home Journal.

Reward.

Governor Breckinridge has offered a reward of $50,000 for the capture of Jas. Freeman, a fugitive from Estill county, wanted for stabbing Curtis Richardson and Stepmum and shooting a nineteen-year-old girl. Freeman served a term in 1893.

Bookkeeping.

Prof. T. F. Lear, the teacher in practical bookkeeping, is here for the purpose of getting up another class, and concerning its teaching we just say this: A man or woman, boy or girl, with any kind of a head on them in a single course of one-half a month of his training is prepared to take charge of any man's set of books and earn a good salary. What the Prof. imparts in fifteen nights is more practical than the training of six months as a commercial school, the cost of six months time and at least an outlay of $150.00. Young men prepare yourselves for business. Such opportunities are rare. See the Professor at Punch & Gatewood's store.

Promotion.

Mr. S. R. Sadler, who has had charge of the Sun Life Insurance Co. at this place and Winchester, has been made Superintendent at Lexington, and will make that place his home. We regret to lose Mr. Sadler and wife from our city. Mr. Sadler will be succeeded by Mr. Russell Johnson, another stirring business man. We welcome Mr. Johnson to our city.

The Eagle King of All Birds.

Is noted for its keen sight, clear and distinct vision. So are those persons who use Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve for weak eyes, styes, sore eyes, of any kind or granulated lids. Sold by all dealers at 25 cents.

Homes Wanted.

We would advise our citizens with money to build some modern residence. There is a demand here for good homes. Lots can be purchased in the Bigelow addition, or in the Holt addition, or in the Peter's addition or the Boys' addition. In any of these places there are choice lots and in some there are very choice lots, with streets opened and the town on both sides and all around.

Lung Irritation.

Is the forerunner to consumption. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will cure it, and give such strength to the lungs that a cough or a cold will not settle there. Twenty-five cents at all good druggists.

Bank Assigns.

E. D. Sayre, of Lexington, an aged banker, died on Sunday of last week. On Friday the banking firm of D. A. Sayre & Co., of which he was the head, made an assignment.

See those flannel shirt waists at the New York Store.

Like All Money

Shoe Money Should Be Well Spent.

Two Shoes for Men.

You may match these prices, but they will not be yoked to as good qualities. Our "Damp Proof" Shoe in Tan Russia Calf is leather lined, has solid sole leather from toe to heel—no half soles. The popular Dayton toe, fast color stockings, extension soles and low broad heels. It is the model walking shoe in all sorts of weather for those who seek health and comfort $3.50.

Blue Diamond Shoe is straight or curved last, extension soles—the feature of the present season's styles—very dressy and easily kept, or rather require no keeping, appropriate for either business or dress shoe and extra serviceable $3.00.

These are only two of our very great variety of excellent shoes. We have never carried so large or so good a stock of men's shoes as we carry this season. Inspect the shoes.

S. BASSETT & SONS, LEXINGTON, Ky.

$70,000,000 Distributed.

The late Cornelius Vanderbilt had a will. The estate amounts to $70,000,000. His second son Alfred Gwynne, got between forty and fifty million dollars. Cornelius, Jr., will receive only $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 will be held in trust. Alfred is going to give his inheritance to make him equal with the other children, or about $7,500,000. Mrs. Vanderbilt receives $2,000,000 in cash and an income for life of $250,000 per year. The residence and other ready goes to the widow and younger children. Channing M. Depew gets $200,000; Vanderbilt University $50,000 and Yale College $100,000. Other religious and charitable institutions are remembered kindly.

Most Certainly.

The way to make stock move is to name a price a little below bottom. We have the goods—a big stock of desirable ware and they must get out of the way for our holiday goods now coming, hence our 30 days sale at record-breaking prices. Come quick. W. W. Reed & Co.

THAT REPUBLICAN PET.*The Trust and Its Effect on the Farmer.

The "Trust" is the enemy of the farmer. He has enough enemies without being subjected to a new one, and that the most insidious and relentless of all which can be imposed on agricultural life. While every man in the community will be injured by the "Trust," except the stockholders in the "Trust," while every class and all professions will, to a larger or lesser degree, pay tribute to the "Trust," the farmer will be more seriously affected than any other. Every piece of machinery, every implement, every article which the farmer uses will be in control of the "Trust." The "Trust" will manufacture them; will put them on the market; will impose the tribute which the consumer must pay. The "Steel Trust" will be the chief tormentor. We will use it for illustration for the reason that it is completely organized, and its deleterious effects are already being felt. Since the organization of the "Steel Trust" steel has advanced in price 100 per cent, and is still advancing. This "Trust" owns the market. It is impossible for competition to take place. There is no seller other than the $200,000,000 "Steel Trust." Every man who is engaged in manufacturing any article which is used by the farmer must buy his steel which enters in to the making of the article from the "Steel Trust." He must pay 100 per cent, more for it than he did one year ago. Every steel plant which was in the United States was swallowed up by the "Steel Trust." Some of the founders have been closed. Thousands of employees have been discharged and the "Trust" is enjoying the difference between the cost of production a year ago, and the present selling price. If there were five dollars profit on the production of steel when it was selling at $17 dollars per ton, there is now a profit of $22. The cost of producing a ton of steel has not increased. On the contrary it has lessened. It takes up more ore, or coal, or any other material which enters into its production than it did before the "Trust" got control. Less labor is used to make it. Fewer salesmen are employed, actually the profits of the "Steel Trust" are three hundred per cent, more than they were less than twelve months ago. It is the most unmitigated oppression ever imposed on industry.

The farmer will find within a year, perhaps much sooner, he will have to pay to the "Steel Trust" from 30 to 40 per cent, more for his agricultural implements than he has done in the past. The tax, for such it is, is vast in the highest degree. There is no relief for the farmer as long as the Republican party is in power. It must be defeated before justice will come. The farmer should remember also that for every bridge which is built, the structural iron used therein will cost one hundred per cent, more than formerly. The "Steel Trust" is a monster which will devour the substance of the farmer.

The promoters of "Trusts" are now at work to form "hard wood trust." When it is accomplished they will fix the price on every stick of timber which the farmer offers for sale. That "Trust" will be the only purchaser. Then we will have to pay tribute to the "Varnish Trust" and the "Paint Trust." Four hundred millions of dollars will be put into a "Trust" to control the wheat product. It will be done. That organized and the price will be fixed for the farmer on his wheat. The farmer will not have a general market? He will be compelled to sell to the "Trust," at its figures. They will form a "Wool Trust." When the clip is shown the "Trust" will fix the price per pound which the farmer shall receive. The product will be held by the "Trust," and sold at its pleasure at a tremendous profit. Clothing, bread and everything else which is necessary for the sustenance and comfort, will be put into a "Trust." The farmer will have to sell at the price fixed by the "Trust," and will have to buy at the price fixed by the "Trust." He will be robbed in selling, and he will be robbed in buying. He will be a slave to the "Trust." He will sweat and his bones will ache, but the profits which arise from the consumption of what he produces will go to the "Trust." It is just as easy to form a "Trust" on wheat and wool as it is to form a "Steel Trust." The conspirators will not stop until the last drop of blood is sucked from the agriculturists. They "know their business." They know what an easy mark the farmer is. They know how quietly and patiently he bears burdens. They will impose them. There will be no use in crying after the milk is split.

GOEBEL*Will Be Elected by a Good Majority.*The Eleventh Will Not be so Large Republican.

Capt. Jas. Blackburn, in talking with a reporter, said he regards Goebel's election as sure, by a good majority. "They can't beat him," said he, adding: "The people are going to support the champion of their rights. There will be no boasting of the Republican vote in the Eleventh district. The Democratic party will have election officers this time in the Republican strongholds, something they have rarely had before. What the Democrats want everywhere is a fair count. When I was up in the mountains, people came to me and said that they would vote the Democratic ticket this year. They hadn't voted for several years, because the Republican County Judges never gave theDemocrats a fair division of election officers and they new their votes would not be counted."

Walter L. Farnsworth, the blighted man who confessed he has over forty wives, claims immunity from punishment on the ground that the Government permits the Sultan Sulu to have as many wives as he pleases.

ELECTION OFFICERS.

The County Board of Election Commissioners met Tuesday afternoon and appointed the following officers of election for Montgomery county to serve at the November election. As far as the writer knows all are good men:

AARONS RUN.

J. K. Todd and Zera Welch, Judges; F. M. Willoughby, Clerk; J. E. Henry, Sheriff.

Brass Higher.

A big brass trust is being formed in the East.

THEY WILL AND THEY WON'T.

Woman as Seen by a Seller of Rugs and Clocks.

"I'll tell you what a woman will and will not do in my line of business," said the man who was selling clocks and rugs on the weekly installation plan. "You can always figure as a start that she's going to haggle about the price. If I offer one of these eight-dollar clocks for $2.50, the average woman would want something off. As soon as the weekly payments begin she'll make a neighborhood hunt for plucked coins and smooth pieces and work them off on the collector. She'll also stand him off for a day or two every pay day, and even when the money is ready she'll hang to it to the last."

"That's what you can figure on nineteen times out of twenty, but there's a big offset. It's rare that women ever skip out and take your property along. They could do it in scores of cases, but their conscience forbids. It's conscience and not fear of the law. I've had 50 cases where families moved, but after a little the wife would send the new address. I lost a family once after they had paid 50 cents on an eight-dollar clock. They shipped their goods by rail and went off west. I got a blessing from headquarters because of their skip, but somehow I felt that it would be all right in the end. So it was. After seven months had passed we got a letter from North Dakota containing a money order for the balance due, and the woman explained that she'd have sent it sooner but that her husband had died and her older boy had been sent to jail. I sold a rug last year to a family that moved next day and a dozen creditors tried in vain to trace them. After a week so the wife ran after me on the street to tell me where to call, and added: 'It was the old man's doing. He took a skip to beat the grocer, butcher, baker and drug store, but if I didn't pay for that beautiful rug I could not say my prayers at night.'—N. Y. Sun.

A CURIOUS CALLING.

Young Philadelphia is a Professional Good Fellow.

A certain young man in this city says the Philadelphia Record, makes a princely income by being a professional good fellow. As he has the field practically to himself, he finds his labors are now growing to such an extent that he will soon be obliged to call in assistance. The popular young fellow belongs to no less than 60 social, secret and society organizations, and not one of these bodies suspects that he attends all the meetings as a matter of business. But he does, and all the same. A prominent eater, who makes a specialty of furnishing banquets and dinners of all kinds to dining and other clubs, employs the young man to look out for his interests whenever a ball or other entertainment is suggested where the services of a caterer will be desirable. Of course, the organization is generally glad to follow the advice of a popular member, and the caterer usually gets the order. Whenever a new club is organized the young man, who can come with the highest recommendations, is generally the first on the roll. All these expenses are paid by the caterer, who is satisfied that his investment is a first-class one.

THE HORSE AND THE MOTOR.

Former Will Not Be Displaced for Some Time to Come.

For certain purposes the motor car is never likely to displace the horse. On good roads the latter will not doubt be at a disadvantage, but in cross-country roads the motor will have no chance. If a motor car gets bogged, the effect of setting the engine at work is simply to make the wheels bury themselves more deeply, and the only chance of getting the vehicle out by its own efforts is to take a line from the car to some anchorage and wind up. Failing facilities for this, resources must be had to the disabled horse, who, at a pinch, can "yank a street car out of a coal cellar." This limitation to the powers of the motor car has been clearly apparent in some of the many excellent tests which were made under the auspices of the Liverpool Self-Propelled Traffic association. In view of the enormous amount of heavy haulage which has to be accomplished in South Lancashire, it is natural that it is to that department of motor-car work that the Liverpool trials have been mainly directed.—British Engineer.

CONCERNING CRICKET.

Game Which Thrives Only Where There Is a Large Leisure Class.

Cricket is peculiarly a game which requires a large leisure class; it involves two innings matches, and lasts on an average two days, sometimes longer. Under the ordinary conditions of American life, it has been found impossible, except in rare instances, to play more than one-day matches, usually played on a Saturday afternoon. Of course, with the boy at school it is different. During the summer holidays he has an opportunity to play cricket all day, and the boys in Philadelphia have, as a rule, availed themselves of this opportunity. Again, in Philadelphia, the cricket professionals have been used merely as coaches, and they have not played in the local matches, thereby compelling each club to develop its own bowlers, and not to rely upon imported talent. The effect of this policy has been to develop two fast bowlers, as good, if not better, than any amateur fast bowlers in the world—Charles A. Newhall and J. B. King. Newhall bowled with varying success in local matches and against visiting English and Australian teams from 1866 to 1884, comprising among their number men who at the time were in the front rank of English and American cricketers. The great secret of Newhall's bowling was his speed and accuracy, coupled with the fact that, even on a perfect wicket, the ball would every once in awhile break off the off and get the batsman out, no matter how well he would set.

King first came into prominence in 1892, and to-day is easily the best amateur bowler in the world. Indeed, the only professionals who can be considered any better are Richardson, of Surrey, and Mold, of Lancashire. King has great speed, can make the ball curve either way, and has a very fair change of pace. At times he is unplayable. The writer will never forget the way in which, in 1887, King bowled out Sussex at Brighton and Warwickshire at Birmingham. The Sussex team was a particularly strong batting side, including George Drann, W. L. Marlock, K. S. Ranjitsinhji, Marlow and Bean, and the fact that they made only 44 on a good wicket is a convincing tribute to King's prowess.—George Stewart Patterson, in Collier's Weekly.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When it is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by H. Catarrh Cure. Send for circular; free.

GATEWOOD-HOOD.
Mr. Roger Gatewood, of this city, and Miss Katherine Gay Hood, of Louisville, were married in that city on Tuesday, Oct. 24, 1899 at 1 o'clock, at the home of Dr. G. M. Warner. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. McFerrin. They at once went to Paris to attend the Barnes-Russell wedding and with this couple took a trip to Eastern cities. The groom has been reared in this country, and is a son of Mrs. Thomas Thomas. He is a member of the firm of Punch & Gatewood and is popular in social and business circles. The bride has frequently visited in this city, is a woman of great beauty, pleasing in disposition, stylish and graceful. On their return they will be at home at Mrs. M. W. Chorn's on Mayville street. We extend our congratulations.BARNS-RUSSELL.
On Tuesday evening Oct. 24 at the bride's home in Paris, Mr. John

GO TO KENNEDY'S

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. James Rash, of Winchester, preached at Somerset church on Sunday and will return on next Sunday. By a vote of 22 to 13 the Synod of Kentucky, in session at Bowling Green, Friday, decided that women could not be ordained as ministers of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

A protracted meeting in the Ewing Baptist church, in which Pastor W. J. Bois assisted the Rev. G. W. Shepherd, closed Friday night. There were several additions to the church for baptism.

From November 29 to December 31, a Bible Institute will be held in Hazel Green. The conductor of the institute will be Prof. B. C. Dewese of Lexington. At night J. W. McGarvey, Jr. will deliver Stereopticon Lectures on Palestine. The subjects to be treated in the institute are: "The Elders," "The Deacons," "The Preacher," "The Preacher's Study of the Bible and Other Books," etc.
